

REGISTRATION IS NOW OPEN

The 4th Annual Culturally Responsive Teaching Conference

The Intersection of Inclusion and Equity

Thursday, April 19, and
Friday, April 20, 2018

The Maritime Conference Center,
Linthicum Heights, Maryland 21090

NEW! A preconference CRT Institute on Wednesday, April 18, 2018

FEATURES:

Two conference keynotes, presentations, workshops, and student presentations

Keynote Speakers:

Dr. Gloria Ladson-Billings

Educator, author and forerunner in Culturally Relevant Pedagogy

Dr. Kimberly R. Moffitt

Associate professor of American Studies and affiliate assistant professor in the Departments of Africana Studies and Language, Literacy and Culture Ph.D. program.

Visit our website: www.CRT-cc.org for conference updates, to submit proposals, and to register for the conference.

Plan now to join us for a vibrant, informative discussion around Culturally Responsive Teaching and Learning. For educators and others whose work has a focus on culturally responsive teaching and learning: K-12, two and four year colleges and universities, and students.

CONFERENCE REGISTRATION FEES:

- $250 Prior to April 1, 2018 (includes both conference days and meals)
- $145 Prior to April 1, 2018 (for one conference day)
- $145 Students (for both conference days/$75 for one day)

Registration opens November 1, 2017. Visit our website: www.CRT-cc.org for conference details, to submit proposals and to register.

For CCBC faculty, student and staff registration visit the website for details

NEW! PRE-CONFERENCE INSTITUTE:

A full day of training in CRT-L. This special session is to train those educators outside of CCBC interested in taking training back to their institution. The CRT Institute will cover one module plus workshop in training others. See website for details and to register. $100 for full day of training/meals

Conference contacts:

Conference Chair: Jadi Omowale, jomowale@ccbcmd.edu
443.840.3336

Conference Marketing: John Lawton, jlawton@ccbcmd.edu
443.840.4145

Conference Assistant: Penny Sorrick, psorrick@ccbcmd.edu
443.840.2123

The incredible value of education.
www.cbcmd.edu

The 4th Annual Culturally Responsive Teaching Conference

CALL FOR PROPOSALS

Conference Theme:

CRT-L: The Intersection of Inclusion and Equity

Thursday, April 19 and
Friday, April 20, 2018

The Maritime Conference Center
Linthicum Heights, Maryland 21090

Call for Proposals

At our 2018 conference on Culturally Responsive Teaching and Learning, we seek proposals exploring, analyzing, teaching, training and sharing on the theme: CRT-L: The Intersection of Inclusion and Equity

We are looking for presentations that acknowledge the classroom as a place for exploring the implications of intersectional identities. Such classrooms recognize student cultural contributions to their own learning, engendering conversations around race, gender, and sexual orientation.

OPEN TO:

- Graduate students
- Faculty and administrators of two and four year colleges
- Community Organizations
- K-12 faculty and administrators

THE PROPOSAL DEADLINE IS
January 12, 2018

Visit the CRT website
www.CRT-CC.org to read guidelines and to submit

At the Community College of Baltimore County, our highest concern is for the empowerment, engagement, validation, and success of our students.

From our vantage point as educators, one way that we help stimulate such agency is by setting goals for cultural responsiveness in every component and every level of our educational process.

At CCBC we believe, "CRT teaches to and through the strengths of the students" Geneva Gay

For more information and registration, visit www.CRT-CC.org or contact chair Jadi Omowale jomowale@ccbcmd.edu/443.840.3886 or conference assistant Penny Sorrick psorrick@ccbcmd.edu/443.840.2123

Registration opens November 1, 2017